

Carol Hanson

September 29, 1934 - May 28, 2012

Carol M. Hanson, 77, of Corvallis died peacefully at her home on Memorial Day, May 28, 2012, after a brief battle with cancer.

Carol was born on Sept. 29, 1934, in Minneapolis, Minn. She lived in Superior, Wis., all of her life until 1991, when she relocated to Corvallis with her husband, Dick (Richard). She graduated from Superior Central High School in 1952. She married and raised her family in Superior. There also was a family cabin in Gordon, Wis., where many wonderful, carefree days were enjoyed. Carol was an avid sports fan, especially of her Green Bay Packers. Her home would be full of family and friends for Packer parties. She loved to read, and usually had a stack of books sitting under the finished daily crossword puzzle near her favorite chair.

Carol was a loving and caring wife and mother. She was always there for her husband and sons. She was an attentive and involved grandmother and great-grandmother. She will be deeply missed.

Carol was preceded in death 34 days ago by her husband of 48 years, Dick Hanson.

She is survived by her three sons, John Hanson of Corvallis, Brad Lisdahl (Pamela Carey) of Corvallis, and Mark Lisdahl (Debra Kienzle) of Superior. She had three grandchildren, Tim Lisdahl, Michelle Storrs and Michael Lisdahl; four great-grandchildren, Zane, Carter, Sam and Arabella; several nieces and nephews; her sisters Nancy (Arnie) Opoien of Corvallis, and Judy Noreen of Bemidji, Minn.; and brother Jim Rohan (Chris) of West Hills, Calif.

She also was preceded in death by her mother, Pearl Bedard Rohan of Corvallis; and brother Robert LaFlamme of Superior.

An open house remembrance celebration is set for 4 to 6 p.m. Saturday, June 9, at her home. In lieu of flowers, donations in her name can be made to the American Cancer Society.
