“ I was one of her first clients in Corvallis. I loved her. We'd talk about our dogs, about Harry Potter, about life. She was so hip and awesome... I was stunned when I learned of her death. I'm so sorry. Prayers for her family. I hope her dog is okay, too. Like, I know she wouldn't want him going to the humane society or anything.

“ My sincerest condolences to Cassandra's family and friends. I met her just a few months ago and it was one of those meetings that just stands out. She was exceptionally bright and I am deeply saddened to hear of her untimely death and will miss her greatly. The world has lost a precious gem.

To her family my deepest sympathy for your loss. Cassandra did my hair for several years. She was very compassionate. Great with her customers. I used to hug her when I left. Glad I told her I loved her. I am heartsick to know she is gone.

“ My condolences to Cassandra's family. She has been my go-to hairdresser for about 4 years, and I found it wonderful to hear of her plans to go back to university, and then to hear how well she was doing in her classes. Last time she told me about looking forward to the music festivals she was planning to attend in the summer. I'll remember the lively and nice person that she was.

I didn't know Cassandra or her family, but I feel so sad that she had to pass at such a young age. May she Rest In Peace. My condolences to her family and friends.

“ My daughter and I were clients and friends of Cassandra. I'm shocked and sad and numb by her unexpected and premature death. Cassandra had a magnetic personality. She was kind, compassionate, and made people around her feel better about themselves and about the world. She was beautiful and funny and bright and ambitious. She and I talked about college and her plans to pursue a math and statistics degree. We talked about our parents and about being a parent. I'm very close to my daughter and Cassandra was very close to her Dad and proud of his volunteer search and rescue efforts. We talked about dating and romance and life and happy things. I'm so sorry about her death and I'm so sad that I will not see her again. My deepest condolences to Cassandra's family and friends.
