“ I remember one summer, I was about 6, Chris was 9, we went to the coast to see my Grandparents. I slid down a board that has a small nail sticking out of it. Chris, always the caring older brother, carried me to my Grandparents' home & helped Grandma patch me up. That was the last time I ever saw Chris. I'm sorry I never got to know u. U were & have always been a part of my life. I love u, brother. 🥺
