

Donna Naught Hockema

June 16, 1930 - May 14, 2014

Donna Hockema of Philomath peacefully passed Wednesday at her home. She was 83.

She was born to Fred and Millie Naught on the family farm in Thornton, Washington. She attended school in Pine City. After graduating from high school she received her beautician's license from the Spokane School of Beauty.

She married Eugene Hockema in 1954. They started their married life in the Alsea area, moving to Corvallis and then settling in Philomath.

Donna worked for many years in the insurance field, retiring from State Farm.

Donna enjoyed fishing and camping with her husband, and spending time with her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

She is survived by her husband, Eugene Hockema; her sons, Don Hockema and Fred Hockema (Sally Hockema); daughter Sandy (Hockema) Hilborn (Steve Hilborn); grandchildren, Amanda Hilborn, Jennifer Grimm (Chris Grimm), Joseph Hockema (Jasmine Hockema) and Nathan Hilborn; great-grandchildren, Laighla, Lilly, Conner and Tucker; her sister, Patty Harvey; and brothers, Gerald and Gary Naught.

A graveside service will take place at 11 a.m. Wednesday, May 21, at Alsea Cemetery in Alsea.
