“ So sad learning the passing of my fourth grade teacher, and dear friend ever since. She taught me a beautiful life lesson that helped shaped me for life, and was an amazing, Godly woman, doing missionary work and teaching around the world. She had such a passion for healing and serving others. Rest in peace dear lady~ you made a difference in so many lives, mine included, and I will miss you and your intellect and insight and inspiration. Jesus will love restoring your sight and you will see all of us coming to you to say, "Thank you!" 💖

Back in Beirut, Miss Stuvenga was my teacher. At the time she taught all eight grades. She lived in the last apartment in the triplex- a building with a terrazzo veranda that ran the length of all three units- it was a great place to roller skate. The veranda overlooked the Mediterranean sea. Carnations and geraniums bloomed below her house. She was the last surviving one of my grade school teachers. Many years later she went on a tour of Israel led by my mother and me. Rest in peace, my friend- rest in peace.
