“ Jim was a truly exceptional and professional counselor. I first met him during my orientation week at OSU, where he introduced the CAPS services to all new students. Later, as a senior struggling with severe depression, I turned to CAPS and joined his group mindfulness practice. Jim was incredibly patient and professional; I felt deeply supported and benefited so much from my time with him. He made a real difference in my life.

“ Jim was one of the most patient people I've met, and I'm very grateful for the support he gave me during my time at OSU over a decade ago. I struggled with addiction most of my life, and have 3 years sober this week. I've been meaning to reach out to Jim and let him know I finally got it, but I'm sorry to hear about his passing. My condolences to his family.

“ I just learned of Jim's passing. My heart goes out to his family. Jim was a small but vital influence in my life many years ago, and I don't think I'd be here without his involvement. I always hoped I could eventually reach out and reconnect with him, let him know that I was still here, and I regret not having done so. Rest well now, Jim; we will do what we can to carry your light forward into the dark.

“ I heard many accolades of Jim before I met him. He professionally helped one of my best friends through some rough times, and my friend was thankful for Jim's wise thoughts and spoke glowingly of him. Years later, I met Jim while volunteering and was impressed. What a huge difference Jim made, both in many individuals' lives and in our community. It is with great sadness that I read he is no longer with us. (I saw the "Jim Gouveia memorial room" on the Corvallis Daytime Drop-in Center's website.) May we honor his memory by seeking to make even a small fraction of the positive impact that he had.

“ My condolences to the Gouveia family, and Chereane at this time. I decided to just look up Jim today and found this obituary posting. Jim has always been an inspiration to me in every sense of that word. Since we met 25 years ago in Seattle, i don't think I have met another person as impactful to me since then-not in the way Jim is, giving, caring, one of true selfless compassion, insightful and wickedly witty. Jim will continue to live in my heart as he has since i first met him. Eugene Shen

My sincere condolences to Chereane and the family. For several years Jim and I were social workers at a child welfare agency in Portland. Jim was funny, smart, had a great sense of justice and he was kind. I will miss him forever.

“ Sweet condolences to family and friends of Jim Gouveia. News of his passing reached me from the Corvallis Daytime Drop-in Center's website mentioning the creation of a Lotus room for people with mental illness to come receive a listening ear. A beautiful legacy so true to the man who taught me how to be gentle with myself through the process of letting go of things that no longer served me. His manner of counseling transformed my thinking from "I'm bad" to a mindful awareness that my addictions were tools in my toolbox and when I was ready, I'd pick up new tools. Even though our sessions were few, he changed my life.

“ Dear Chereane, 7/04/2021
We met when I came to USA to see Jim again since I had met him in Ghana. I was so worried without answers to my messages since last autumn; I could not think of the worst: Jim was such a good man, he could not pass away. And today I found the news on internet. I am with you, with your sons and grandson too. Mes très sincères condoléances from Claire, a french friend for ever truly.
