

Kenneth Monday

December 4, 1941 - April 1, 2011

Ken was a beloved husband and father who loved and protected his family. His wife and girls were everything to him, and together they created a tight-knit family that was constantly together.

He was born Dec. 4, 1941, in Knoxville, Tenn.; raised in Southern California; and loved living in Corvallis for 36 years. He and his family lived on a couple of acres, where he enjoyed the wildlife and his shop.

He loved sailing, designing and building sailboats. He was well known for his knowledge and skill in selecting, repairing and sailing boats. He designed a contractor's workstation that is a great mobile shop for construction projects. He also loved RV'ing with his family.

He was a wealth of knowledge, and loved talking with everyone about everything. He enjoyed so many conversations while drinking coffee at the Beanery. He was a constant buyer and seller of so many things, and loved wheeling and dealing.

He attended University of California at Los Angeles and University of Oregon, and received a Master's degree in psychology. He had many varied occupations throughout his life. Ken died suddenly and peacefully in his sleep after a happy day with his family and friends.

He is joyfully remembered by his wife, Lori; daughters, Ali and Tristin; grandson-to-be, Vincent Kenneth; parents-in-law, Paul and Glenda Neerman; brother, Gary, and his wife, Linda; and many, many friends.

A casual celebration of Ken's life will take place at 11 a.m. Saturday, April 9, at

First Presbyterian Church, Ninth Street and Monroe Avenue, in Dennis Hall on the west side of the block.

Tribute Wall

“ What a shock Ken was a prince Ron

Ronald Seastrand - April 08, 2011 at 12:06 PM