“ I worked with Marga for many years at HP before she retired. She always had a smile and a sparkle in her eyes. It was only later I learned of her love for animals. She was a dear one and she will be missed!

“ Marga loved animals is an understatement. She used to care for my two dogs, cat, bird and chickens. She insisted on sleeping with the dogs and cat and I still smile at her stories about how they all snuggled together. She once watched the animals when we had that huge snow storm. The snow drifts were as tall as she was. She still managed to go out and walk. She loved to walk. That is how I met her. On the trails at PV. She was open, honest and giving. She shared her love of mushroom picking with me. I admired her strength and determination. She might have been small but she was strong. I am so happy to have known Marga. I wish her family and friends my condolences.
