“ My first PT job was working for Margaret and what an amazing person and physical therapist. I learned sooooo much from her and saw her heal people that western medicine or other therapists could do nothing for. I looked her up to try to help a patient of mine only to read about us losing this wonderful person. Rest in peace my mentor and we will meet again in the clinic above :)

“ The first time we met Margaret was after our daughters birth. We needed a PT to help us with Brachial Plexus injuries our daughter had sustained from her birth and we were lucky enough to have been sent to Margaret. She was a miracle worker, not only helping with the injuries but with all aspects of the stress and emotional exhaustion we were all going through. Over the years Margaret also became our family Manual Therapist helping with all our sports related injuries, and as always she was amazing and truly an angel. We moved from Corvallis a year ago and only recently found out about her passing. We are so very sorry and send our deepest condolences to her family. This earth and life has lost an amazing person.

“ When I think of Margaret, I think of her smile, her energy, the sparkle in her eyes and her brilliance in diagnosing me. I once had the privilege of listening to her explain her work to a person who was interning with her. It was very interesting. One of the issues she helped me with was for my left knee. She was the only person who figured out that the problem was with my weak ankle which was hurting my knee. No more knee braces for me!

Thank you, Margaret. Corvallis is blessed to have known you.

“ Margaret treated my wife, (Karen) Starleaf, for chronic pain for many years, much of the time on a weekly basis. While other practitioners over the years brought Starleaf little respite and often increased discomfort, Margaret’s “magical” hands were a dependable source of relief. I drove my wife to many of the sessions and Margaret taught me (using her books, demonstrations and hands-on practice) treatments to use in between their sessions. They also connected over books: in addition to their swapping of many titles, I helped with numerous transfers of books between “Margaret’s Lending Library” and our Little Library. After the death of Starleaf, Margaret invited me to continue the transfers of books from her lending library and also had further suggested books for me to read.

Another star has gone out.

“ Sixteen years ago I broke my arm in a fall. I had 3 surgeries and excruciating pain. I had 9 (yes, nine) physical therapists who dismissed my pain as my “not trying hard enough”. Margaret listened and helped immeasurably. The fourth surgery found a massive infection which had eaten my rotator cuff and part of my deltoid. I am lucky to be alive. I am grateful to her for listening and for her consummate skill. She walked on water as far as I’m concerned.

“ A beautiful soul with a heart of gold. Margaret’s genuine smile, twinkling eyes, and welcoming personality made each trip to her therapy practice a fun, soothing experience visiting with a friend, not just a provider. As a person Margaret was a gem .. compassionate, positive, funny, smart as a whip and always striving to be better in whatever she did. As a mom, she was so proud .. I would ask how her kids were doing and she’d beam, whipping out her phone to share photos of their adventures and accomplishments! As a therapist she was a natural healer ... intuitive, patient, and incredibly skilled. Many called her the ‘body whisperer’ and a miracle worker. They were right .. she was gifted. Margaret brought so much to so many .. tirelessly helping others with her kind and caring spirit. I miss you, Margaret. I thought there would be so many more years graced with your sweet personality. Our loss is huge, but our world is much better for having been blessed with your presence.

“ How very sad to hear of Margaret's passing. I worked with her for many years at the Corvallis Clinic and know how much she was appreciated by her patients. After being called an "angel" by one of my husbands running partners I recommended her to our son who had back issues. She found the problem right away and he had many pain free years after that. She was truly a healer. Our very best wishes to her family at this time.

Trying to keep it to a one-page tribute about Margaret for my writing class has been tough. So much history and absolutely loved that woman for her generous healing spirit, her sense of humor, energy. The list goes on. What a wonderful person and gift to so many of us. You can't really replace her 🥹

“ So saddened. Margaret helped me and my husband through various ailments over the years. She had an amazing gift for healing and a wonderful presence. Most of my friends were treated by Margaret as well and we all marveled at her abilities. She will be missed.
