

Roger Hart

September 16, 1940 - February 27, 2011

Roger Allen Hart, 70 of Seal Rock died Sunday at Good Samaritan Regional Medical Center. He was born Sept. 16, 1940 in Lynn, Massachusetts. Roger was a geologist for the State of Oregon. He also taught at the Oregon Coast Community College. He was a published photographer and writer. He was passionate about mountain climbing and environmental issues. Roger is survived by his ex-wife, Maggie McCaffrey; their four sons, Brendan, Ian, Kieran and Taran and three grandchildren. Private family services will be held. Roger was grateful for his many friends in Corvallis and the surrounding area—and would wish them all the best.

Tribute Wall

JD

“ Goodbye, Roger! We will miss you. Remembering the early days in New Haven, the marine weathering of basalt, etc. etc....I first heard the Beatles in your place, Yeah, yeah, yeah(:-)

Julius Dasch - March 21, 2011 at 11:48 AM

SC

“ My deepest sympathy for all of Roger's wonderful family and friends. He's been my next door neighbor at the Oregon Country Fair for a billion years, and we will all miss him so much.

Sarah Colvig - March 04, 2011 at 10:07 PM

JH

“ Dear Brendan, Kieran, Ian, Michael, and Maggie: I always enjoyed Uncle Roger's visits. I still have the paleontology kit that he brought me from the Peabody Museum at Yale. When my kids studied geology in elementary school I shared the kit with their class. The teachers loved it. I also still have the astrology reading that he did for me. Good memories.

Jolene Hart - March 02, 2011 at 06:14 PM

JB

“ My deepest sympathies. I will always remember his passion for geology. He incited that passion in me. Thank you joy

Joy Bautz - March 02, 2011 at 12:04 PM