

Thelma May Sloan

February 9, 1918 - November 5, 2014

Feb. 9, 1918 — Nov. 5, 2014

Thelma May Sloan, 96, died Wednesday, Nov. 5, at her home in Corvallis.

Thelma was born Feb. 9, 1918, in Monmouth. She was the daughter of Edward and Iva Crabtree Pollan. On Nov. 19, 1939, she married George Armond Sloan. The couple had one daughter, Patricia. Thelma was a homemaker; she enjoyed baking, celebrating the holidays, working with her roses and, most of all, spending time with her daughter and grandchildren.

Thelma was a proud descendant of the Crabtree family, who were among the original settlers to travel west on the Oregon Trail in the 1800s. She was a faithful member of Kings Circle Assembly of God Church in Corvallis.

Thelma was preceded in death by her husband of 63 years, George Armond. She is survived by her daughter, Pat DeFrancisco; sister, June McClintic; granddaughter, Rayna Maddox; grandson, Steven DeFrancisco; and many nieces and nephews.

A visitation is scheduled for noon to 4 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 12, at McHenry Funeral Home in Corvallis.

Private interment will take place at Evergreen Memorial Gardens in Vancouver, Washington.
